SCULPTURE PARK: HEIDE I TRAIL

Be an art detective and spell out a hidden word with this fun activity sheet for kids and parents to do together. Start outside the main reception area, follow the directions and use the clues to find out the answer. Suitable for Children and parents of all ages.

DIRECTION	SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT	CLUE	ANSWER
1. In the Sculpture Plaza outside Heide III find a stone sculpture by Anish Kapoor.	Can you see the curved form that the artist has carved emerging from the rough block of stone? What shape is it?	Anish Kapoor is a celebrated British artist, but where was he born? The first letter of this country is your first clue.
2. Stand in front of Anish Kapoor's sculpture In the Presence of Form II and look around you. Find a shiny silver sculpture on top of a grassy hill. Your next clue is hidden there.	This sculpture is named after a planet in our solar system. Walk up the hill and stand underneath the sculpture, look through the sculpture at the sky and imagine how far away the planets are.	It's not a planet but it does orbit around the Earth. What is the first letter of the only place in space that humans have walked upon?
3. Head up the cement road behind you to the upper carpark. Just before you get there you'll find a black steel sculpture near a very big gum tree.	The hard, flat geometric shapes of this sculpture stand out against the soft, organic shapes of the natural environment.	What is the second letter of the surname of the artist who made this sculpture in 1970?
4. Can you see a house further up the hill? Go to the orchard at the front of this house (Hint: you can use your sculpture park map to find this). There is wooden sculpture hidden in the orchard that looks a bit like a tree.	Can you see how the letter 'Y' repeats itself in this sculpture, the same way that branches in a real tree divide and repeat?	Knowledge is a seed that once planted needs ideas in order to __ R O W. (The missing letter is your clue)

5. The next sculpture is not very far away, nested at the edge of the wild garden around the far side of the house. It's called Budding. Can you find it?	Does this sculpture make you think of flower buds just beginning to open?	The fourth letter of the artist's first name is your fifth clue.
6. Find the sculpture hidden at the back of the wild garden called The Letter S: S for Sunday (BR)/S for Sweeney (AS) made in 1987.	Sunday and Sweeney were mother and son. The sculpture shows the two letter 'S' shapes wrapped around each other, embracing.	The same artist made this sculpture and Tree of Knowledge. What is the letter missing from his surname: S E L E _ _ I T S C H
7. Circle around the wild garden and find an archway covered in vine. There's a grey abstract sculpture by Paul Hopmeier here.	The title of this sculpture is another word for wild. Why do you think the artist has chosen it?	This letter appears twice in the one word title of the sculpture.
8. Time to head back down the hill. This time follow the gravel paths towards Heide II On the way can you find another sculpture by David Wilson, called The Hill? (Hint: you can use your sculpture park map to help you)	The red colour of the sculpture is a layer of rust from the metal coming into contact with the weather.	What metal is this sculpture made from? The second letter is your clue... S _ _ _ _
9. Keep going down the path until you get to the end, turn right towards Heide II and find a figurative sculpture made of bronze. Is it a man or a woman?	This sculpture titled Mary Magdalene is larger than life-size, meaning the sculpture is bigger than a person.	George Baldessin is an Australian artist, born in what country? The first letter of this country is your clue.

10. Head back in the direction you just came from, straight towards the café. On your right you'll find a small sculpture. It's as tricky as a clown in a circus, but you'll find it if you step down into a nook.

Do the forms in this sculpture look like they are balancing on a thin wire? Can you balance on one leg and count to 20?

Geoffrey Bartlett's sculpture is made from two metals. Steel and .....? The third letter of this metal is your clue.

11. The last sculpture is just outside the main entrance to the museum. It is not made of wood, stone or metal. It is a living, growing sculpture; can you find it?

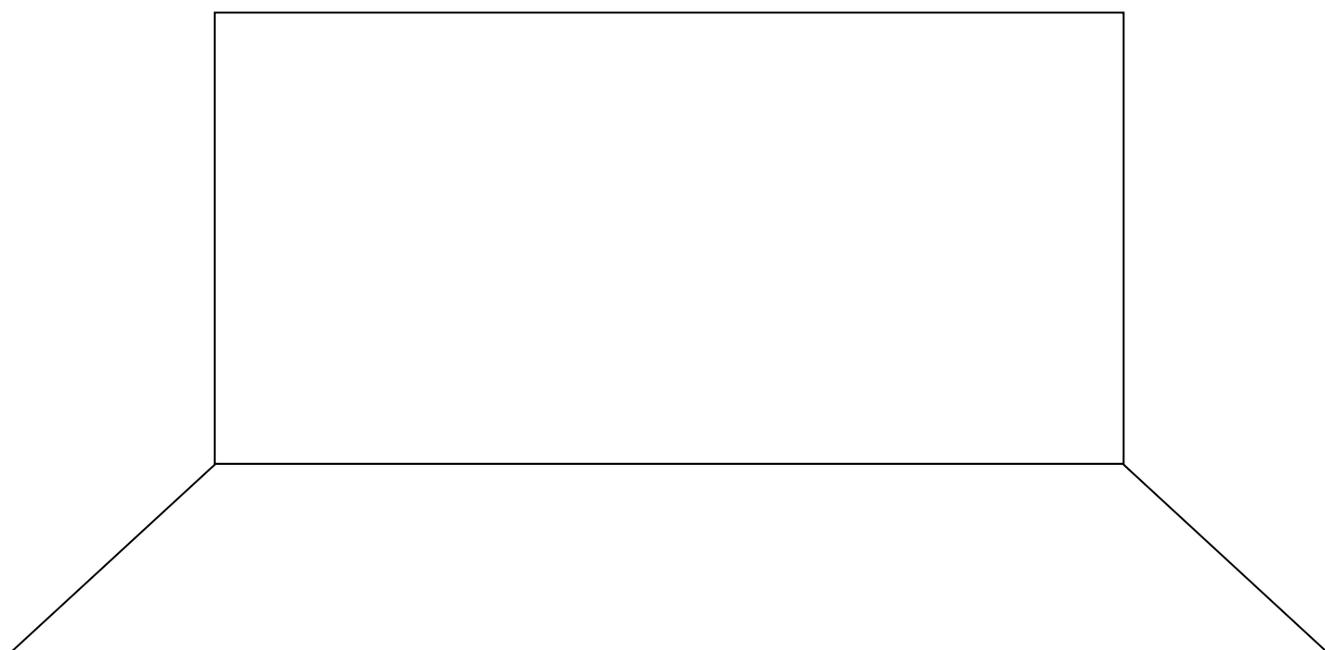

All materials change with time. How do you think this sculpture will change?

The first letter in the title of this sculpture is your last clue!

QUESTION: Did you solve the puzzle and find all the missing letters? What word do they spell? (It is something that all children have, and all artists need!)

ANSWER: _ _ _ _ _

What plants can you see growing in Fiona Hall's Native Garden, 2009? Draw a picture of them here:
